Photos taken 5-13-98
Proposed golf course in Lualualei

Shown in the photo is Tracy Runnels from Rosco Moss. This was reported to be an unstable, unsuccessful well, which collapsed & had high chlorides. The casing is broken off, so it is essentially an open hole. This well may be sealed in the future.

State Well 2408-09
Called Lualualei Golf Course # 2 in well file
Named changed to Mailir Irrig. Well # 2

"Quarry well"

This 8" cased well has a plate welded on top of it with a smaller screw cap on top. The well is located 17' from a vertical rock face, in a cul de sac at the end of an overgrown driller's road.

"This well is a good one."

This well was recently discovered, has a pump in it and was given a State Well # number.
Recent inspections on parcel 8-7-09:2 documented the conditions of 5 other wells drilled for a potential golf course.
We were unable to locate the 6th well which was supposed to be drilled on parcel 8-7-10, another plat on the other side of Lualualei Naval Road.
No well was found at that location. Mr. Hida said that the well was drilled but abandoned because the water was too salty for golf course irrigation.

Next several pages show plants that have been irrigated on the property. Irrigation lines run to the trees bordering the road. More irrigation lines run to bougenvilla, palms and bananas. What is/ was the source of this water ???
Well 2408-10 is the only well that I am aware of on the property with a pump in it. Note the brush fires on the hillside above and the photo taken across the street.

TMK 8-7-09:2 proposed golf course site - inspection photos taken 5-20-98 - with electronic camera – Note the many irrigation lines running to trees, bougainvilla, palms, and bananas. This is a very dry area. The only well that we found with a pump in it was undocumented and needs after the fact permit applications. The power was currently cut off from the well.
