The Dneiper River in the Ukraine is the fourth longest river in Europe, flowing 2,200 km into the Black Sea. This wintery scene near the city of Oster shows the many meanders and abandoned paleo-channels of this major river. The image covers an area of 18.6 by 32.1 km, and is located at 50.9°N, 30.9°E.